Hang Brown.

We propose to have Old Ossawatomie Brown hung. He deserves it, and we hope that Gov. Wise, if he has the power, which it is said he has not, will guard against all cowardly feeling of false clemency to influence his better judgement to the extent of leading him to grant even a temporary suspension of the sentence that overhangs the traitor's head. The 2d of December, 1859, will be remembered as a day of fearful example to the men of his stamp who are left alive with the will to conspire against their country but without the brave.

One co-conspirator with Old Brown, Gerrit Smith, he that the Republican organ in the city of Fond du Lac calls an "angel man," has already become insane from the workings of his guilty conscience. Others there are whose consciences, if they have any, are not so susceptible. They are the kind of men who need convincing that to be convicted of treasonable conspiracy against the government of these United States is sure death.

Pleased we are if it be beyond the power of the Governor of Virginia to interfere in the case of this hoary headed old criminal. Let him die the death.—Fond du Lac Democratic Press.

We envy not the head, or heart, of the man who wrote the above article. The editor of the Press should emigrate without delay, to Virginia, and see to the hanging of "Old Brown," himself. Gov. Wise would doubtless find him a valuable coadjutor. Is it any wonder that the Virginia press should clamor for Brown's blood, when a Northern paper can be found to utter such sentiments? No doubt Brown will be hung, but the day that sees the deed, the 2nd of December, will be "Doomsman's Day" to the slavery propagandists of the South and their Doughface allies of the North!

THE FIRST REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION IN KENTUCKY.—A Republican State Convention was held at Newport, in Kentucky, last week, to nominate delegates at large from that State to attend the Republican National Convention. Several speeches were made, and CASSIUS M. CLAY and GEORGE D. BLAKELY, were appointed delegates. The resolutions were brief and to the point. We give them entire as the first series of resolutions emanating from a Republican State Convention in Kentucky:

Resolved, By the Republicans of Kentucky, that they re-affirm and stand by the Philadelphia platform of 1856.

2. That they are in favor of law and order, of State Sovereignty, of National Supremacy, of the Constitution and the Union.

3. That they are determinedly opposed to servile insurrection, and illegal interference with slaves at home or abroad.

4. That they stand by and defend the freedom of speech, the liberty of the press, like other political institutions, open to the will of the legal majorities, the omnipotence of Conventions, and the progressive civilization of ages.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.—The following view of political prospects in 1860, we copy from the Providence, (R. I.) Journal, a leading Republican organ. The article was prepared before the result of the New York election was known, although it is not probable that any Republican paper will admit the most important bearing which their defeat in a State which casts thirty-five electoral votes, has on this estimate.—Neics.

Probably not; as the Republicans, instead of being defeated in New York, have just achieved the most signal victory that ever crowned their cause in that State. For particulars, see official vote in this morning's Sentinel.

BARBAROUS GIL.—One way to encourage fanaticism is to send money to John Brown for the relief of his family, and leave hundreds nearer home in a starving condition.—News, of Saturday.

Even at the risk of "encouraging fanaticism," we hope that every man who has a dime, or a dollar to spare, will send it to the destitute and afflicted family of JOHN BROWN—a name that will live in history.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.—The Racine Advocate, in speaking of the next Legislature says: "Forty days should be the utmost limits of the session, and every day the Republicans shorten it from that will entitle them to a vote of thanks from the tax-payers."—Sound advice, which we trust the members elect will heed.

PERSONAL.—A New York letter writer has discovered that "LOLA MONTEZ is living very quietly up town, and doesn't have much to do with the world's people. Some of her old friends, the Bohemians, now and then drop in to have a little chat with her, and though she talks beautifully of her present feelings and ways of life, she generally, by way of parenthesis, takes out her little tobacco pouch and makes a cigarette or two for herself and friend, and then falls back on old times with decided gusto and effect. But she doesn't tell anybody what she is going to do."

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.—The Albany (Green County) Times states that ISAAC L. ARMSBURY disappeared very mysteriously last Friday, (a week ago,) since which time nothing has been seen or heard of him. He had been about town all day Friday, and was last seen about nine o'clock in the evening.—It is feared that he lost his reckoning on his way home, and walked into the river, and drowned, as the night was very dark and he somewhat intoxicated. Parties have been out searching for his body since Saturday morning, but without success up to the time we go to press.

SACRED TRAGEDY.—We learn from the Ayrshire (England) Express, that on Tuesday, the 1st, the Rev. Mr. WADDELL, of Ginvan, read from his own pulpit a poetical tragedy, of which he is the author, entitled "King Saul," illustrating the power of madness, superstition, and jealousy combined.—It is a five-act tragedy, adhering throughout to the narrative as it appears in Holy Writ, and containing on every page delineations of character, and fine dramatic taste, which would not disgrace the pen of the greatest dramatists.

FOUND A JEWEL.—A few days since there was a basket found on the door steps of a gentleman residing on Buffalo Street, Chicago, and the contents discovered to be a male child about twelve hours old, labelled, "Father, open your door and take me in and raise me well."

A PRAYER for the President of the United States has been incorporated into the public service of the Episcopal Church at Emmer, Switzerland, the only church in that country where the English language is spoken.

The Vote of New York.

We have at length the official returns from the Empire State. They are eminently satisfactory to Republicans everywhere. We copy them from the Albany Evening Journal of Wednesday last:

A Republican Comptroller elected by forty-eight thousand majority.

A Republican Treasurer elected by forty-seven thousand majority.

A Republican Attorney General elected by forty-nine thousand majority.

A Republican Judge of Appeals elected by forty-five thousand majority.

A Republican Clerk of Appeals elected by forty-eight thousand majority.

A Republican State Prison Inspector elected over the united Democratic and American vote by six hundred majority.

A Republican Senate chosen by thirty-five thousand majority.

A Republican Assembly chosen by an equal or larger majority.

On the other hand:

A Democratic Secretary of State, Canal Commissioner, and State Engineer and Surveyor, barely elected by majorities ranging from 314 to 1468, by the united vote of the Democrats and Americans. So stands the record.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT FROM BURNING FLUID.—Last Thursday evening one of those terrible accidents which the papers have treated of for the last eight years occurred in Chicago. A family, comprising a mother, named MARGARET SEGAR, her two children—BERNARD, and LEOPOLD, aged two years and a half—and the grandmother, CATHERINE SONTE, were sitting around a table in the kitchen, about six o'clock in the evening.—The father was asleep in the front room.—The light was burning low, and the mother arose to fill it without extinguishing it, and commenced filling from a quart can. The flame from the lamp communicated with the fluid in the can, and in an instant it exploded, covering the table with the blazing liquid, setting fire to the curtains and windows, and enveloping all of them in flames. Their screams awoke the husband, who, with the help of his neighbors, succeeded in extinguishing it, but not until all were burned.

The youngest child, BERNARD, was horribly burned about the face, and died at four o'clock Friday morning. The second child was badly burned about the eyes, and was thrown in convulsions. The mother is very badly burned in the face and upon the arms, but it is thought that she may recover. The grandmother is the least burned, but she suffers much pain, and is confined to her bed.

STEAM ENGINES.—There are now twenty steam fire engines in Philadelphia. No city on the continent, nor indeed in the world, can boast of half as many. Cincinnati, where the reform originated, has but six, and New York with all her vaunted enterprise, has not more that two or three.

THE DEAD LETTER OFFICE.—The un-called for mail-matter, that finds its way to the "Dead Letter Office," equals in variety the contents of an old curiosity shop. On the 6th of December will be disposed of, to the highest bidder, at public auction, in Washington City, the following "mail matter" that has accumulated since 1848, to wit: Coats, hats, sacks, drawers, gloves, scarfs, suspenders, patent inhaling tube, gold pens, pencils, and all kinds of small jewelry imaginable, undersleeves, fans, handkerchiefs, box of dissecting instruments, pocket bibles, shirts, bed quilts, boots, gaffs for game fowls, black silk basque, hoods, shawls, gaiters, ear trumpets, razors, flags, shoulder braces, watch chrystals, and a thousand other things, too numerous to mention.

The law in relation to undelivered mail matter declares that, three months after being advertised, it shall be sent to the general post office, there examined, and, if found to contain valuable enclosures, returned to the parties by whom it was mailed. This law has been so construed by the Post Office Department that it results in six, nine, twelve, and even eighteen months passing away before undelivered mail matter is forwarded to the parties that mailed it, who, by that time, may have died, moved away, &c., and thus the property becomes, in fact, confiscated to the use of Government. We trust the affairs of the Post Office Department will receive the earnest attention of the coming Congress.

THERE is in the possession of a lady in London, a copy of Macklin's Bible, in fifty-four large octavo volumes, illustrated with nearly 7,000 engravings, from the age of Michael Angelo to that of Reynolds and West. It also contains two hundred original drawings by Dontherburg. The prints and etchings include the works of Raffael, Albert, Durer, Callot, Rembrandt, and other masters, consisting of representations of every fact, circumstance, and object mentioned in the Holy Scriptures. The most authentic Scriptural atlases are also bound up with the volume, and it contains designs of all plants, animals, fossils, &c., as have been adduced in proof of the deluge. The Bible was the property of the late Mr. Bowry, who spent much money and time in the collection and arrangement of the engravings and drawings, and is said to have devoted thirty years rendering it perfect. It was insured for $3,000.

FALSE RUMOR.—Our citizens have already been apprized that it was rumored currently on the street Saturday, that a body of negroes were assembled in the suburban town of Sydney, within a stone's throw of the Public Armory. Of course it created no little apprehension on the minds of delicate females, and tender, chicken-hearted men, and consequently a patrol was ordered out, comprised of the Richmond Lancers, and a number of mounted citizens, to scour that section of the country, and keep guard during Sunday night upon the frontier lines. But, as is usually the case, nothing in the shape of spoils came within their reach, except some poor negro devils who had no passes. Of course, as men of war, they captured their prisoners, and held them in bondage until an amnesty was secured through the Mayor yesterday morning.—Richmond Daily News.

KIT CARSON had a narrow escape from being killed by the Ute Indians in a row between that tribe and the Mexicans—Kit happening to be in company with the latter.—An Indian had leveled a rifle at his breast, and would have fired and killed him, but for the intercession of a squaw.

"I SAY, Bill, then your getting two dollars a week now?"

"Weel, you might a knowed that, by seein' all the fellers coms scrapin round me that would not notice me when I was poor."

TERRIFIC HURRICANE!

Walls of the New Music Hall blown down—Extensive Damage.

About six o clock last evening, the wind, which appeared to have subdued considerably at sundown, again increased to a frightful gale. The walls of even the most substantial buildings were shaken to their foundations, in some instances so violently that the plastering was broken from the ceilings.

About 7 o'clock a terrific crash was heard, denoting that some building had given way and fallen beneath the heavy pressure of the wind. It was found to be the new music hall erecting by Mr. Bryan in the post-office alley.

The walls of this building were nearly up to their full height, some fifty-two feet from the pavement. The lower twelve feet was built of stone, the remainder of brick. The brick walls were sixteen inches in thickness, and were strengthened by pilasters every ten or twelve feet, which projected from the walls four inches. It was considered to be one of the most substantial pieces of masonry in the city. But the great area of the building, 96 by 104 feet, without any partition walls or other interior structures to bind the exterior walls together, and with scarcely more than half a dozen windows through which the wind, entering at the open top, could escape, rendered the strength of the structure insufficient to resist the terrific power of the gale. The western wall first fell, inwardly, crashing through the floor joists into the basement. The wind now had a more powerful force against the eastern wall, which fell 15 minutes after its fellow, crashing through and demolishing about twenty feet of the rear end of the Unitarian church.

The north and south walls were now only left standing; and the wind being from the west did not have so powerful a sweep against them as against the others. But being unsupported by the side walls, these, in about an hour, fell with a tremendous crash. The north wall fell into the alley, doing no damage to other buildings, except smashing one or two windows in Anderson's restaurant.

The south wall fell inward, doing no damage to other buildings.

A portion of the west wall, which was left standing after the first crash, fell at the same time, towards the west, burying and utterly demolishing the ice house of Ambrose & Jackson's eating house (late Vinton's) and also the kitchen of Goodhus & Cram's eating house. The former lost about $100 worth of provisions, etc., and the latter not far from the same. Fortunately, no person was injured, though some of the kitchen employees had a very narrow escape, and were so badly frightened that they fainted.

Small portions of the walls, at the northwest and southwest corners were still standing at 9 o'clock last evening, though with a prospect, if the gale continues, of falling before morning.

The damage to the Unitarian church must be as much as $500 or $600. A portion of the wooden structure back of Mann & Wright's sample room, 95 Washington street, was also demolished by the falling walls.

The loss in the destruction of the music hall doubtless falls upon the contractors for the masonry, the walls not being finished.—We do not know who the contractors are.

Great apprehension was felt for the safety of the Kingsbury block, the walls of which are still in an unfinished state. The occupants of adjoining buildings deserted their premises to be out of the danger, and the sidewalk was barricaded to prevent the passage of pedestrians. But fortunately this building sustained no injury, the walls being well supported by interior wood-work, and by adjoining buildings.

Doubtless the gale last night did much other damage in the city; but we are unable, at the late hour of writing to hear of any.—Chicago Daily Times, of Saturday.

POSTMARKS ON LETTERS.—Every letter which goes through the post office receives a postmark or stamp, with the name of the place at which the letter was first mailed. Through the carelessness of writers, this is often the only indication to the person who receives the letter of the particular locality whence it came, no name of town, county or State, being at the head of the letter. In the transaction of business, this last omission is very inconvenient and annoying and is always the cause of trouble and vexatious delay, if not loss, to both parties. But the carelessness of writers of letters might be in some measure checked by the postmark, if it could be read. But, unfortunately, though the mark is always put upon the letter, it is done in such a careless and hasty manner, that on one half the letters which reach us, it is utterly indistinguishable, frequently but one or two of the letters composing the name of the place being deciphered at all. These remarks are intended for information, or the trouble of placing them upon the letters would otherwise not be imposed upon the post office attendants. If they are intended for information, they should be so as to be easily read. There is no excuse whatever for the imperfect manner in which the work is performed, and as the postmark is really a very important part of the latter, we hope the Postoffice Department will endeavor to have it done in a more satisfactory manner.—Philadelphia Ledger.

CHARIVARI is having its own fun over Ward, the American Minister in China. It has published engravings three days in succession, which are the laughs of Paris. The first one represents Ward on his way overland to Pekin. In this engraving one sees only a large rough box mounted on an uncouth wagon drawn and surrounded by a great mob of hooting, howling Chinese. The American Envoy is shut up in the box, without the power of taking observations of the country through which he is passing. The second engraving represents the arrival on the great square of Pekin. The cavalcade is stopped, a board or two has been knocked from the side of the box, and a long, lank, clean-shaved individual, in a black dress coat and with a bandage on his eyes, is seen bursting forth. Two Mandarins receive in their arms the blind Ambassador. The next engraving shows in the palace before the throne of the mighty brother of the Sun and Moon, delivering his speech. He is still in solemn black, and a close-fitting bandage over his eyes shuts out the view of the Celestial world around him. While the blind Envoy is sawing darkness with his arms, his mightiness is on the throne, indulging in the interesting pantomime, so beloved by juveniles, of playing the "You can't come it?" movement with his hands upon his nose. This is Charivari's idea of Ward's pilgrimage to Pekin.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN.—Place her among flowers, foster her as a tender plant, and she is a thing of fancy, waywardness, and sometimes folly—annoyed by a dew drop, fretted by the touch of a butterfly's wing, and ready to faint at the rustle of a beetle; the zephyrs are too rough, the showers too heavy, and she is overpowered by the perfume of a rose bud. But let real calamity come—rouse her affections—enkindle the fires of her heart, and mark her then, how her heart strengthens itself—how strong is her purpose. Place her in the heat of battle—give her a child, a bird—anything she loves or pities, to protect—and see her, as in a relative instance, raising her white arms as a shield, as her own blood crimsons her upturned forehead, praying for life to protect the helpless.

... her in the dark places of earth—awaken her energies to action, and her breath becomes a healing—her presence a blessing. She disputes, inch by inch, the stride of the stalking pestilence, when man, the strong and brave, shrinks away, pale and affrighted. Misfortune daunts her not; she wears away a life of silent endurance, and goes forward with less timidity than to her bridal. In prosperity she is a bud full of odors, waiting but for the winds of adversity to scatter them abroad—pure gold, valuable, but united in the furnace. In short—woman is a miracle—a mystery, the centre from which radiates the great charm of existence.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY.—What shall we do to-night?

THE CITY.

Magazines for Binding.

As the year draws to a close, and with it the volumes of the many periodicals subscribed for by our readers, we would call attention to the facilities at the SENTINEL BINDERY for putting all kinds of periodical literature in a durable and convenient shape, at a reasonable price. Let those who have magazines bring them to the SENTINEL office and have them bound. We are also prepared to execute orders for blank books of the heaviest and most ornate description, and are constantly furnishing Ledgers and every variety of business account books to Merchants. Our means of executing durable and ornamental binding are unequalled. Give us a call.

MADAME ANNEKE.—The Milwaukee correspondent of the Chicago Times thus speaks of a well known and respected literary lady of this city:

Mrs. Anneke is a woman of an imposing presence, and of the highest literary reputation. The intimate friend of Freiligrath, the first poet of Germany, he used to say he never knew the full scope of his own poems till he heard her read them. As a reader of lyric poetry she greatly excels, and her melo-dramatic readings constitute a new feature in musical entertainments. She reads from Longfellow, the Bridal Song of Hiawatha and the Death of Minnehaha. The music accompanying these pieces, composed expressly for them by M. Sobolewski, who himself presides at the piano, is adapted to the sentiment, and renders the reading most beautifully impressive. But he improvises music to suit a piece after hearing a reading of it once. The citizens of Chicago, I feel quite sure, will have a great musical treat in this entertainment.

There is no little curiosity, I find, to see Madame Anneke in every city she visits.—People wish to see a woman who, at twenty-seven years of age, was poet laureate of Germany—the only woman in the world who has ever received that honor—an honor bestowed on her, not solely on account of her poetical talents, but on account of her great talents in all the walks of literature. When Freiligrath resigned the laurel (for political reasons, having become a Republican,) she was thought to be the most worthy person in Germany to receive that honor. And she, too, following Freiligrath's example, became as a Republican, and served in several battles as aid to her husband, one of the leaders of the German revolution in '48. She is certainly one of the most remarkable women of the age, and the Germans throughout our entire country regard her with enthusiastic admiration. As editress, correspondent, and lecturer, she is well known to them in the principal cities of the northern and central States.

MR. SOBOLEWSKI IN CHICAGO.—We see by the Chicago papers that Mr. EDWARD SOBOLEWSKI, of this city, gives a concert this evening at Metropolitan Hall in Chicago.—The Times thus speaks of the author of "Mo-Lega":

His melo-dramatic compositions are worthy of especial notice as being entirely original in musical conception and treatment. Among the most beautiful is "Cleopatra." It opens with an impassioned call to death; then a beautiful musical picture of her dream of Anthony; a vision of her life floats before her. She hears the rustling of the fragrant sails of her golden barque that bore her over the melodious waters to her love, and in the immortal longing of her heart for an eternal union with the beloved, she places the asp upon her bosom which is to end the life dream, and send her afloat on the murmuring ocean of eternity in quest of her idol.

Miss Sobolewski's rendering of this glorious composition is truly wonderful. In this she has received the kindest encomiums of the first European composers and musical journals. She has a voice of remarkable compass, and her style evinces careful and thorough training.

LECTURE UPON INDIA AT BOWMAN'S HALL.—We have not given any report of Major CONSTABLE'S lecture at Albany Hall, on Wednesday evening last. It is most highly commended by all who heard it, as being both eloquent and instructive. Those who did not hear him there, will have an opportunity of repairing their loss, in a measure, by going to BOWMAN'S Hall, this evening, to hear his second lecture upon "The Religious Observances and Superstitions of the Hindoos." We are sure that it will be a valuable and interesting production.

RAILWAY SHIPMENTS.—Large quantities of flour and provisions are now moving eastward from this city, by the way of the Detroit and Milwaukee and Great Western Railways. On Saturday the shipments by the D. & M. steamers were as follows: 2,687 bbls flour, 1,134 bbls beef and pork, 20 boxes bacon, and some 20 or 30 tons miscellaneous freight. Messrs. LAYTON & PLANKINTON and EDW'D RODDIS are daily shipping hog products and beef to the eastern markets by this route.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—A Teachers' Institute will be held in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, of the present week, under the direction of Chancellor BARNARD, of the State University. Teachers from the vicinity are cordially invited to attend the meetings of the Institute, and will be provided with quarters on leaving their names at the Superintendent's office.

DROWNED.—The body of MICHAEL WALL was found floating in the river, yesterday, near the M. & M. R. R. depot, by a man named CORBETT. WALL was an intemperate man, and it is thought fell in the water while under the influence of drink.

CALEB WALL has some great sales going going on at his auction room this week—book sales, dry goods and American Express goods. Read his new advertisement this morning.

DEDICATION.—Milwaukee Lodge I. O. G. T. dedicated their new hall in Martin's Block, on Friday evening, with appropriate ceremonies.

BOARD OF SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.—A special meeting of the Board of School Commissioners will be held at their room, this Monday evening, at half-past 7 o'clock, to make arrangements for the Teachers' Institute which is to held in this city during the present week, and to transact such other business as may come before them.

The Select Committee appointed to consider the matter of the School Tax for the current year will meet at the Superintendent's office, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY.

MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 28, 1859.

The Next Presidency.

From the New York Courier and Enquirer, Nov. 23d.

The Baltimore American of Saturday last, closes its leader upon the state of public sentiment in the South, with the following sentence:

"The anti-Slavery sentiment of the North has too recently won victory to now moderate its desires or purposes, and the South, excited and alarmed, is making the occasion which should caution moderation and prudence, the opportunity for pressing extreme and impracticable demands. We think if the South would look calmly at the state of affairs it would not be difficult to recognize the fact that the Republican party has nowhere so serviceable and vigorous auxiliaries than those who demand that Congress shall interfere for the protection of Slavery, and who threaten the dissolution of the Union as the consequence of a refusal."

There is both force and wisdom in this; and if reason instead of passion, governed the counsels of the South—or rather, if Southern people, instead of Southern Demagogues, spoke through the Press, there would be no occasion for such a picture of the present state of feeling in that quarter as it is set forth in the following extract from the same leader:

"The successes of the Republicans at the North, and the exasperation induced by the Harper's Ferry outbreak, have produced at the South a feeling that demands and will apparently be satisfied with nothing less than the most radical measures. This demand is backed by the Charleston Mercury, which has for something like a score of years unceasingly dissolved the Union, now reposes its fulminations more deeply than ever. The day of compromisers it declares, is past, and the South must have all it asks granted or quit the Union. The Democratic Party, it contends, cannot serve Slaveholders and also free soil, and it must become a Southern Party or no party. The Richmond Enquirer, always in the Union as in every other crisis of its death mortis than even its Charleston contemporary, speaks doubtingly of its surviving the approaching Congress, and predicts that the Charleston Convention will decide in favor of a new organization which the Enquirer believes will be efficient to save the Confederacy from dissolving over night and leaving no trace behind, is first the nomination of Gov. Wise for the Presidency; and second, that intervention for the protection of Slavery must become the established doctrine of the Democratic party. If this is not granted by the Charleston Convention, the Enquirer predicts that there will be a brave talking, a bullying debate, a separation, a die-under, a secession, that will be the only progressive, but potent—a shadow of coming events cast warningly before us to inform and defer." The Charleston News bids the South prepare, and advise that the southern Legislatures should at once openly declare their sentiments on public affairs, but provide their respective States with such military organization and means as may enable their people to defend their homes, their property, their political systems and their national independence.

And to these newspaper threatenings we may add the recommendation of the Governor of Mississippi—a State always most forward in putting an end to Union and most backward in paying its just debts—who, after reviewing in anticipation the disastrous results to the South that would follow the election of a Republican President, suggests the following measure for adoption, in such events: 1st. The election of delegates to a State Convention, to be held sometime in December, 1860, to adopt such measures as may meet the exigency of the occasion. 2nd. The passage of a resolution, inviting the co-operation of our Southern States, to take measures to secure their rights as the equal members of the confederacy. The Governor suggests that among the measures so adopted, should be the duty of insisting upon "new constitutional guarantees for our protection." The simplest and most efficient of these new guarantees, the Governor is of opinion, would be an amendment of the Constitution, requiring that no law affecting the institution of Slavery, or imposing indirect taxes should ever be enacted, unless it should receive a majority of the votes of the Senators from the Slave holding States.

These utterances, it is true, come only from the most ultra organs of Southern feeling, nor do we believe that they are endorsed by more than a small, but yet influential, minority of the people of the South.—But still they are not without a certain significance, that is the more threatening from the fact that they just now meet with neither denial nor reproof from the more conservative portion of Southern sentiment.—They are uttered openly and defiantly, and if not approved are at least uncondemned. Adopted primarily, partly in a moment of excited feeling, but mainly as a weapon susceptible of effective use in the contest which the South is fighting it not only with the Republican party but also with the Northern wing of the Democratic party, there is danger that they will in the end become the confirmed doctrine of its people.

To this delineation of the follies of Southern political leaders, should be added the impudent threat of disunion if the North should presume to exercise its constitutional right and elect WILLIAM H. SEWARD to the Presidency,—or indeed any body else, not perfectly acceptable to the South!! Rebuking this impudence, we said on the eighth inst:

"If any portion of this great confederacy, whether it be the East or the West, the North or the South, attempts to withdraw from the Union, it will be promptly whipped—aye, whipped into subjection. It is all idle to mince the matter. The fiat has gone forth and will be enforced; let Washington, Oregon, and California, at the Northwest, or Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts, at the Northeast, or the agricultural States of the North and Centre, or the Slave States of the South and Southwest—let any one of them or any combination of them raise the banner of rebellion against the American Union—we care not what their pretence for treason—as certainly as there is a God above, so certain is it, that the offending States will be whipped into obedience, and the traitors who encouraged rebellion, terminate their career upon the gallows."

Who might have been the candidate of the Republican party for the Presidency in 1860, no prudent man could pretend to predict six months ago. But not so now. The Southern press, speaking in the name of these Southern leaders who habitually mislead and deceive their constituents, has made proclamation, that if the Freemen of the North, dare to disregard their impudent dictation and Constitutionally and legally elect to the Presidency WILLIAM H. SEWARD, they will secede from, and destroy the Union of the States!!! This settles the question. Thus threatened and bullied, men who never preferred SEWARD to other well known and long tried Republicans for the Presidency, have now but one fixed and unalterable determination in regard to who shall be their Standard-Bearer in 1860. They intend to prove, that they not only clearly understand their constitutional rights and privileges, but that they have the necessary nerve to maintain them. They will not threaten, or bully, or play the braggadocio. All that they leave to the men who quailed before old JOHN BROWN and his seventeen miserable Abolitionists, and who are now marching troops up and down the country to frighten away the shadow of a danger which has no substance, save in their cowardly apprehensions, and the absence of all self-reliance in the hour of danger. The intent to vindicate their self-respect and to show their estimate of bullying threats by electing to the Presidency the very man the South would ostracise; and then leave to him and to his co-administrators of the Government, the punishment of treason whenever and wherever it dares to exhibit itself. And they have no fears for the result. Barking dogs rarely bite; and when they do, are certain to be punished for having mistaken their vocation.

SURVIVING "WOMEN OF THE REVOLUTION."—The following is the list of surviving widows (out of about 5000 admitted) who were pensioned under the first act that was passed by Congress—viz: July 4, 1836—for the services of their husbands in the revolutionary war. To entitle them to a pension, the act required that the marriage should have taken place prior to the completion of their husbands' services in that war. It is remarkable that in nearly all of them they applied for and received their pensions up to the 4th of March last, the date of the last return; and still more so that, in several cases, they should be living 84 years after their marriage, and have enjoyed their country's bounty for 35 years.

DISTANCE OF ANOTHER STAR ASCERTAINED.—A late number of the Astronomische Nachrichten, contains the results of Dr. Kruger's observations on the binary star, known as 70 Ophiuchus, with the heliometer of the Bonn Observatory, for the purpose of ascertaining its distance from our globe.

This star is one of a bright cluster in the right shoulder of the constellation Ophinchus, and has long been regarded with interest by astronomers on account of its being one of the first class binary stars—the smaller revolving around the larger in about eight years, and having nearly completed one revolution since its motion was first detected. The principal star is of the fourth magnitude, of a pale topaz color, and plainly visible to the naked eye—the companion star is of the seventh and of a violet color

This star offered the same inducements to measure its distance, as the other few stars whose distance has been determined. Dr. Kruger finds the mass of the binary system to be a little less than three times that of our sun, and its distance from us to be above one million two hundred thousand times that of the earth's mean distance from the sun—a distance that would require light nineteen years to pass over, flying constantly at the rate of two hundred thousand miles in a second. Two other fixed stars, Alpha Centauri, the most brilliant star in the Southern heavens, and 61 Cygni, in the Northern heavens, are within this distance. Alpha Centauri is the nearest known star, and is so distant that it would require more than three years for light to pass over the interval between us. 61 Cygni is better known to us by being in view in our latitude. Its distance is so great as to require light 9 1-4 years to fly from it to us. Of the millions of stars which crowd our firmament, the distance of these three are only known with any certainty.

THE OFFICIAL RETURNS.—The official returns from all the counties in the State, with the exception of Buffalo, Clarke, Douglas, Dunn, Jackson, Kewaunee, Lafayette, La Pointe, Oconto, Pepin, Polk, Waushara, Winnebago and Wood, have been received by the State Canvassers. The official majorities of the several Republican candidates so far, are as follows:

Randall	4,184
Noble	3,291
Harvey	3,124
Hastings	2,879
Howe	4,049
Pickard	2,109
Van Steenwyk	2,397
Heg	2,079

It will be seen by these figures, that the official returns are better for the Republicans than the first reports. The counties not received will not materially vary the result.—Madison Journal.

Gov. Willard Suborning the Press to Save Cook.

The Indianapolis Journal says:

Mr. A. P. Richardson, formerly Senator in our State Legislature from St. Joseph county, now editor of the North Iowa Times, a Democratic paper, who is well known to many of our readers, sends us the last issue of his paper, in which we find the following damaging and disgraceful exposure. We wish it understood that we have no wish to see Cook executed. If Gov. Willard can save his life honorably, we hope most earnestly he will. If any one of the rioters deserves punishment, he does, for he is as guilty as the rest, but if he can be snatched from execution, God speed the good work. But no honorable man can wish that end carried by the shameless, blood-trafficking intrigues which are exposed by Mr. Richardson. Read his statement:

ATTEMPTED SUBORNATION OF THE PRESS.

On Friday last, Nov. 11, the clerk of the Key City, on the downward passage of the steamer, handed us a letter, of which we have decided to publish the substance. The publication of the letter, with an enclosure designed as an "editorial" for the columns of the North Iowa Times, would cause a sensation of no ordinary character.

It is known to the reading public of the Union, that Captain Cook has recently been convicted of murder and insurrection at Harpers Ferry, and that Gov. Willard, of Indiana, in obedience to the dictates of humanity, and respect for the feelings of his wife, whose brother Capt. Cook is, has attended the trial, provided able counsel, and exerted every justifiable moral influence to avert the doom which probably awaits his unfortunate relative. It may not be known, however, that in the letter before us, addressed to the editor of this paper, as an "Indianian and a Democrat," written by a gentleman formerly in the confidence of a distinguished Senator from Indiana, there is a proposition to bring the political character and services of Gov. Willard, and the aid of the Democratic Press of the West, to bear on Gov. Wise's feelings or his vanity, for the commutation of Cook's sentence to imprisonment for life. Yet such is the fact!

In exposing a scheme, fraught with a violation of all right, and the eternal disgrace of the party with which they are associated, we but follow a line of duty, which, in our opinion, should characterize every conductor of a public journal. This publication is not a breach of any confidence reposed in us, because no man has a right to approach another with suggestions, which, if consummated, would burlesque justice or compromise self-respect. Nor is that all. The writer of this letter says: "I have seen the press of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, Tennessee and Kentucky, to get them to join in also."

He was just returning from Minnesota, where several of the presses had engaged "to come out next week" in an editorial, similar, we suppose, to the one furnished us, a marked copy of which is to be forwarded to Gov. Wise at Richmond. A secret, if proper in itself, when committed to the hands of so many unpledged keepers, ceases to impose the obligation of silence, and hence we pay it no respect whatever; as it involves the monstrous, and till now unheard-of principle of permitting an escape from liability for crime because of political services, we publish it to give it the weight of our humble, but most emphatic condemnation.

The editorial prepared for our paper is the shallowest, and so far as we can judge, the falsest bundle of flattery to Gov. Wise, and ill-tempered denunciation of "Black Republicanism," we have read—the latter being charged en masse with a blood-thirty desire to see Cook hung, and all the rest saved, so that the influence of a Democratic Governor may appear to be disregarded, and hostile feelings be promoted between the Northern and Southern Democracy. We employ no hand but our own to write leaders for this paper, but if we do so, some other person than the writer of the article referred to, would get them up. Its unwise appeal to party spirit, and the highly colored picture of Willard's battles in defense of "Southern institutions," would render it ineffectual on Gov. Wise; and the party which it attempts to compromise in this great wrong, would rise as one man to curse the motive which prompts the sacrifice of the holy principles of Justice on the shrine of Political Ambition. But the subject is not a pleasant one, and we forbear to speak of it in the terms which its criminality demands.

JOHN BROWN, IN PRISON, TO HIS OLD SCHOOLMASTER.

His Views of Death and Religious Hopes—An Interesting Letter.

LETTER FROM REV. L. W. BACON.

To the Editors of the Independent:

My aged friend, Rev. H. L. Vail, of this place, remembers John Brown as having been under his instruction in the year 1817, at Morris Academy. He was a godly youth, laboring to recover from his disadvantages of his early education, in the hope of entering the ministry of the Gospel. Since then the teacher and pupil have met but once to take a retrospective look over the route by which God had led them." But a short time since Mr. Vail wrote to Brown in his prison a letter of Christian friendship, to which he has received the following heroic and sublime reply.

Has ever such a letter been written from a condemned cell since the letter "to Timotheus" when Paul "was brought before Nero the second time"?

I have copied it faithfully from the autograph that lies before me, without the change or omission of a word, except to omit the full name of the friends to whom he sends his messages.

The words in italics and capitals are so underscored in the original. The handwriting is clear and firm, but toward the end of the sheet seems to show that the sick old man's hand was growing weary. The very characters make an appeal to us for our sympathy and prayers. "His salutation with his own hand. Remember his bonds."

Truly yours, L. W. BACON.

A LETTER FROM CAPT. BROWN IN PRISON.

CHARLESTOWN, Jefferson Co., Va., November 15, 1859.

Rev. H. L Vail—My Dear Steadfast Friend: Your most kind and most welcome letter of the 8th inst, reached me in due time.

I am very grateful for all the good feeling you express, and also for the kind counsels you give, together with your prayers in my behalf. Allow me to say, notwithstanding "my soul is amongst lions," still I believe "God in every deed is with me." You will not, therefore, feel surprised when I tell you that I am "joyful in all my tribulations;" that I do not feel condemned of him whose judgment is just, nor of my own conscience. Nor do I feel degraded by my imprisonment, my chains, or prospect of the gallows. I have not only been (though utterly unworthy) permitted to "suffer affliction with God's people," but have also a great many rare opportunities for "preaching righteousness in the great congregation." I trust it will not all be lost. The jailor (in whose charge I am) and his family, and assistants, have all been most kind; and notwithstanding he was one of the bravest of all who fought me, he is now being abused for his humanity. So far as my observation goes, none but brave men are likely to be human to a fallen foe. "Cowards prove their courage by their ferocity." It may be done in that way with but little risk.

I wish I could write you about a few only of the interesting times I here experience with different classes of men, clergymen among others. Christ, and the captain of liberty as well as of salvation, and who began his mission, as foretold by him, by proclaiming it, saw fit to take from me a sword of steel after I had carried it for a time; but he has put another in my hand, ("the sword of the Spirit,") and I pray God to make me a faithful soldier, wherever he may send me, not less on the scarlold than when surrounded by my warmest sympathisers.

My dear old friend, I do assure you I have not forgotten our last meeting, nor our retrospective look over the route by which God had then led us; and I bless his name that he has again enabled me to hear your words of cheering and comfort at a time, when I, at least, am on the "brink of Jordan." See Bunyan's Pilgrim. God, in infinite mercy, grant us another meeting on the opposite shore. I have often passed under the rod of him whom I call my Father; and certainly no son ever needed it oftener; and I have enjoyed much of life, as I was enabled to discover the secret of this somewhat early. It has been in making the prosperity and happiness of others my own; so that really I have had a great deal of prosperity. I am very prosperous still, and looking forward to a time when "peace on earth and good will to men" shall everywhere prevail. I have no murmuring thoughts or envious feeling to fret my mind. "I'll praise my Maker with my breath."

I am an unworthy nephew of Deacon John and I loved him much; and in view of the many choice friends I have had here, I am led the more earnestly to pray, "gather not my soul with the unrighteous."

Your assurance of the earnest sympathy of the friends in my native land is very grateful to my feelings; and allow me to say a word of comfort to them:

As I believe most firmly that God reigns, I cannot believe that anything I have done, suffered, or may yet suffer, will be lost to the cause of God or of humanity. And before I began my work at Harper's Ferry, I felt assured that in the worst event it would certainly PAY. I often expressed that belief; and I can now see no possible cause to alter my mind. I am not as yet, in the main, at all disappointed. I have been a good deal disappointed as it regards myself in not keeping up to my own plans; but I now feel entirely reconciled to that, even: for God's plan was infinitely better, no doubt, or I should have kept to my own. Had Scampson kept to his determination of not telling Delilah wherein his great strength lay, he would probably have never overturned the house. I did not tell Delilah, but I was induced to act very contrary to my better judgment; and I have lost my two two noble boys, and other friends, if not my two eyes.

But "God's will, not mine, be done!" I feel a comfortable hope that, like that erring servant of whom I had just been writing, even I may (through infinite mercy in Christ Jesus) "die in faith." As to both the time and manner of my death—I have but very little trouble on that score: and am able to be (as you exhort) "of good cheer."

I send through you my best wishes to Mrs. W—— and her son George, and to all dear friends. May the God of the poor and oppressed be the God and Saviour of you all.

Farewell, till we meet again.

Your friend in truth, JOHN BROWN.

KILL YOUR FISH.—A Frenchman who has recently visited Holland to inspect their fisheries, says, in speaking of them, that being surprised at the difference of Dutch fish, both fresh and salted, sea and fresh water fish, to French fish, the former being superior to the latter both in firmness and flavor, he was at the pains of inquiring into the causes which produced this difference. He discovered that it was no accident, but was the result of a simple operation. The Dutch kill their fish the moment they are taken out of the water, whereas most persons, the French among them, allow the fish to expire after enduring the torments of a long agony, which acts upon fish precisely as disease would act: softening the flesh and infecting them with principles of dissolution. Nobody eats chickens or sheep which die of disease; why should we eat fish that die of langour? The Dutch kill their fish by making a slight longitudinal incision under the tail, it is made so rapidly, the Dutch use it even in their herring fisheries. Some other fishermen kill their fish by thrusting a long sharp needle in the head.

Since we are upon this subject, let us express our horror at the stupid manner in which our farmers' wives and market people kill their poultry, by cutting their throats, and losing all the blood, which gives the flavor to the fowl. In France, where they not only cook the lords and ladies of the poultry yard better than they do any place else, but where they have finer fowls than the traveller sees on any other tables, they never think of cutting the throats of their poultry, and losing the delicious blood—These wise men of the kitchen stick a sharp, long needle into the back of the victim's head, at the juncture of the spinal marrow and brain. We commend these lessons of experience to all our readers who may love to rear and to destroy Mowbray's favorites. —Boston Traveller.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.

HOME AGAIN, AFTER BEING AB-sent for nearly a month; have seen no city goods equal to those in our beautiful city of Milwaukee. Find business in all the cities generally dull, except New York, and I did particularly in all real estate and city goods. Already abundant in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore; in any one of these cities money can be obtained at six per cent. But for property in Milwaukee prepared not to invest or loan on Western property, but that is wearing away very rapidly. A much better feeling now exists towards the West than there was six months ago, and I have no doubt in my own mind that in the next twelve months we shall see a great reaction in all operations in our city, and still a greater one if we will manage to pay up promptly by the 1st cent on our city indebtedness. I came home feeling delighted with Milwaukee. I have seen no place to compare with it, or that I would be willing to exchange it for, and I am confident in my own mind that we will go ahead and grow more rapidly the next five years, than we have for the last ten years. Let us all cheer up. Milwaukee is too important a point to be overlooked. In conclusion, I would say am now ready to attend to any Auction and Commission business in the usual way, and all business entrusted to my care will be faithfully and strictly attended to. My Auction Room is very large, and I can store away any amount of Goods.

On my way home through Baltimore, I stopped at Harper's Ferry and obtained one of Capt. Brown's Sharpe's Rifles. All who have any curiosity to see the instrument of death, call at my Auction Room. CALEB WALL, City Auctioneer.

PILES! PILES!! PILES!!!
What is it? How Cured?

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS HAVE PILES—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is, or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleeding, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal venous circulation. This produces the engorgement, dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hemorrhages, pain and suffering; and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this abdominal venous congestion. Hence, ointments, washes, and even injections, are ineffectual. HUMPHREYS' HOMŒOPATHIC PILE SPECIFIC, a simple sugar pill, taken two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefitted by it. Price 50 cents a box.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty remedies, in large 3-dram vials, and morocco case, $5; do, in plain case, $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $2.

These remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address,

THERE'S SOMETHING IN A KISS.

There's something in a Kiss,
Though I cannot reveal it,
That never comes amiss,
Not even when we steal it.

We cannot taste a kiss,
And sure, we cannot view it,
But is there not a bliss
Communicated through it?

I'm well convinced there is
A certain something in it—
For though a simple kiss,
We wisely strive to win it.

There's something in a kiss,
If nothing else would prove it,
Forsight be moved by this—
All honest men do love it.

The Cabman's Club.

Mr. Punch is exceedingly happy to find that those useful institutions, Clubs for Cabmen, are being established in various quarters of the town. Lord Shaftesbury states that they are productive of much good, and that the Cabmen, instead of going home to quarrel with their wives, come to the Club, and in intellectual conversation dissipate the hatred they have formed for mankind during the day's conflict. Softened down, they are thus restored to their homes, and statistics show that since the getting up of these Clubs the per centage of black eyes among Cabmen's wives has been reduced from 1 in 6 to 1 in 10. Mr. Punch wishes all success to the effort, and is much pleased with the bye-laws of the Cabman's Club. He submits a few of the rules. It will be seen that they are calculated to exclude every recollection or discussion of a disagreeable character:

I.

That no Member shall say "Here you are!" under any circumstances whatever.

III.

That no Member shall look at a map of London, or ask another the distance from any point to any other.

V.

That in no case, except when one Member promises another a legacy, shall any Member say, "I'll leave it to you."

VII.

That there shall be no attempt to pass bad money at the club.

VIII.

That, except when a haunch of venison is presented to the Club by Lord Shaftesbury, the word Buck shall never be mentioned.

XI.

That the porter in the hall shall receive the badges of all the Members on their entering, and shall return each in a sealed envelope as the owner goes out.

XII.

That 'Osses shall be as little spoken about as possible, and then only in reference to sporting events.

XIII.

That a bird's mouth shall be alluded to as his pecker, or some other device shall be employed to avoid the word Beak.

XV.

That, except when speaking of a fight, there shall be no use of the word Mill, and that no member shall describe another as Crankey.

XVIII.

That a vessel containing liquid shall be called the Vase, or the Chalice, or the Ewer, but upon no occasion the Jug.

XX.

That the waiters shall always have small coin about them, and never have to say, "I've no change, Sir."

XXI.

That all anecdotes of successes obtained over female, aged, country, or foreign fares, be forbidden, not as unwelcome, but as calculated to excite envious feelings in those Members who have been unfortunate enough to obtain little more than their legal hire.—Punch.

AID TO THE
MT. VERNON FUND.
Stuart's "Gold Mounted" Oil Portrait of Washington.

"There is a bond of union on the banks of the Potomac."

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF AMERIca, throughout its length and breadth, who are desirous of aiding the "Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union" in their noble work—that of collecting means to consummate the purchase, and furnish the necessary funds for placing the Home of our beloved Washington at Mount Vernon—can render valuable service to the cause, by forming clubs from among their friends of 5, 10, 20, or more persons, and remitting, with names, to either of the Vice Regents of Lady Managers of the Association the same amount in return for their beautiful copy of the great original picture by Gilbert Charles Stuart, now in possession of the Boston Athenæum.

The portrait, so well endorsed as evidence, faithfully and accurately representing this chef d'œuvre of Stuart, is cabinet size, and being made tributary to the Mount Vernon Fund, is at once an evidence of the patriotism and taste of the purchaser, besides being a handsome parlor ornament. A favorable opportunity is thus offered to every family in the land, of contributing to this noble Mount Vernon cause by the purchase of this portrait, and the recipient cannot fail to be treasured of the great Chieftain and the Mount Vernon object, than such an appropriate and speaking likeness.

The plan, as ONE of the aids of collecting means, is considered a happy one; and for the tribute of ONE DOLLAR, the friends of the Association is assuredly most acute table.

Parcels of 5, 10, 20, 30 or 100 copies will be carefully put up, and sent to any point of address on the receipt of ONE DOLLAR for each picture ordered; thus, five dollars remitted for five pictures; ten dollars for ten; twenty for twenty, &c.

Clubs of ten, twenty, fifty or more persons, can remit to Miss Sallie L. Corse, Corresponding Secretary, at Richmond, Va., or any of the officers appointed acting thereto whom any person interest in other States.

Each of the officers will receive all orders, and have them promptly supplied.

Together with woman's persuasive influence, is added the endorsement of Messrs. Everett and Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, whose noble efforts in behalf of the Association, thus far have been crowned with the happiest success, having already received, united, by his own unassisted abilities and mastery eloquence, upwards of $60,000 to the Fund.

Mr. EDWARD EVERETT Eagle, as a single person forming a club while published under the Portrait Subscription of "Mount Vernon Record"; also forward all moneys without being accredited.

All Express Companies throughout the country, extending even to California and Oregon, having given the Association the free use of their routes, parcels will therefore be forwarded without any charge.

Persons will address and remit to the Vice Regents, or through their Committees and Managers; also, to L. A. Geary, Esq., of the Lady's Book; to S. F. Watson; or DEVEREUX & CO.,
132 South Third street, Philadelphia.

GOLD-MOUNTED OIL PORTRAIT OF MR. EVERETT.

A faithful and accurate photographic picture of this gentleman, is now ready for delivery. It is beautifully executed, and appropriate emblems of Mount Vernon in a gold arabesque border.

Clubs from 5 to 100 solicited, and forwarded the same as the "Washington Portrait—One dollar for each picture ordered. DEVEREUX & CO.,

THE SENTINEL.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY EVENING, November 26th.

Money Matters.

The money market, excepting an advance of ½ per cent. in Exchange, has been without variation during the week. The banks have discounted all the offerings of good business paper at the legal rate, and would have found no difficulty in "doing" a much larger amount of the same sort. The current rate of Exchange is 1¾ premium, and the banks have been hard pressed to keep up with the demand of their customers. At Chicago the price is 2 per cent.

Commercial.

Receipts and shipments of flour and grain for the week ending to-day are shown by the following table:

The shipments for the same period were: 10,997 bbls flour, 172,431 bus wheat, 3,000 bus oats, 500 bus barley, 105 bags meal, 100 bags seed, 4,325 bbls beef and pork, 51 tons mdse, 200 bbls sundries, 420 bbls lard, 24 kegs do, 7,125 bbls salt, 50 bbls molasses, 40 bbls apples, 21 bbls tallow, 35 do whiskey, 61 do tobacco, 105 do soap, 9 tons coin, 8 tons pig iron, 6 tons groceries, 128 tubs butter, 28 pkgs scrap iron, 60 cds wood, 25 bdls skins, 19 bdls hides, 1,200 R R ties.

To-day the market took an upward turn, under the influence of light receipts and improving markets at the East, and prices advanced 10@2c. The general impression was, however, that unless the market is further stimulated, this advance will not be sustained longer than the present demand for shipment continues. The closing prices were as follows: 94c for Extra Club delivered; 90@90c for Club; 89@90c for No. 1 on the track and 92c on board; 87c for No. 2 on the track. The sales in all were about 25,000 bushels. Flour was also rather firmer, and some five or six hundred barrels of Spring Extra were sold for immediate shipments at $4.40 @4.50 on board.

Receipts and shipments of flour and grain to-day are shown by the following table:

The weather being more favorable, dressed hogs were in better demand for packing, and lots averaging 230 and 240 pounds went freely at $5.40@5.50. Receipts thus far this season of live and dressed hogs are as follows:

CHICAGO, Nov. 25th.—Receipts during the past two days: 6,266 bbls flour, 21,815 bush wheat, 26,624 bus corn, 4,766 bus oats, 5,501 bus barley.

The Press & Tribune says:

The wheat market, under the advance in Liverpool, and a consequent improvement in New York, advanced 1@2c on Spring grades. About 30,000 bushels changed hands, at $1 05 for No. 1 red; 90c for No. 1 Spring; 86@88c for No. 2 Spring, and 94@95c for Club. The market closing firm at the outside quotations. Flour was in better demand, with a good shipping and some speculative inquiry, and sales show an advance of fully 5c, although choice brands were generally held at an advance of 10c. About 1,600 brls changed hands, at $4 25@4 60 for fair to choice Spring extras, and $3 for ordinary superfine. The corn market also advanced 1@2c, but closed more quiet. Sales were more freely held, and the market showed a slight improvement, with sales of about 7,000 bushels at 31c in store. Rye in good demand, and sales at 65½@67c for No. 1 on track. Barley advanced 2c, limited sales being made at 44c for No. 2 and 50c for No. 1. Timothy in good request, and sales at $2 10@2 14 for fair to choice. A small lot of flax seed was sold at $1.— Highwines quiet and nominal at 22c. Alcohol, 45c.

The receipts of live hogs during the last two days amount to 6,907, and of dressed 956. The live hog market since our last report has declined about 10c, but at the close the downward tendency seems to have been checked. Light hogs sold to-day at $3 85½@4 00 gross, and fair to good at $4@4 25. Some lots of extra heavy, however, are ranging in price and sold at $4 40@4 50, weighing 200@290 lbs. Dressed hogs were in fair demand, but the unfavorable weather caused a slight depression—the heaviest selling at 45 lbs, and the light at 5½@5¾c. The provision there has been a better and a somewhat firmer feeling. Under a good inquiry for mess pork holders are considerably firmer. A sale of 200 brls Milwaukee mess is reported, but the terms are not made public. It is understood, however, that the parties are all holding firm at $14. There is a good inquiry for cut meats, but these is little or none offering. The only sales reported is that of 500 lbs short middles, to arrive next month, at 7c. The supply of lard is dull and weaker—there being now no buyers at over 9½c. A few packages keg lard were sold to-day at 10¾c, and a packer sold his Winter's grease at 7¾c. Tallow unchanged.

Weekly Review of Milwaukee Markets.

SATURDAY, November 26, 1859—3 P. M.

FREIGHTS—The lateness of the season, and consequently the increased risks of shipping have given more firmness to freights, and during the past week vessels have been chartered to carry wheat to Buffalo at 6¾@7c. The margin, however, between Eastern and Western prices, is not such as to offer anything like a strong inducement for shipping, and the heavy rates of insurance after this date will preclude any considerable movement of grain Eastward during the balance of the season.

FLOUR—Receipts 9,969 bbls against 5,401 last week.—Shipments 10,997 bbls against 11,336. The active shipping demand which kept the market up last week, and during the early part of this week has comparatively ceased, and buyers are now shaping their calculations for storage until Spring, or shipment by Railway. Towards the close of the week holders showed some indications of conceding to the views of buyers, and the transactions of yesterday indicated a decline of 15@ 20c from the prices ruling last week, but to-day the market was firmer under the influence of an advance at the East and an active demand for immediate shipment, and the decline of yesterday was fully regained. The following are the sales reported each day during the week: Monday: 700 bbls at $4 to $4,50 for Superfine to Extra on board; 65 bbls "Bark River" Spring Extra at $4 20 delivered; 40 bbls of another brand at $4,25; f. o. b.; and 40 bbls at $4,38 f. o. b.; 20 bbls rye flour at $3,50. Tuesday: 200 barrels "Stone Mills" Spring Extra at $5; 400 bbls "Burgess Mills" do at $4,50 f. o. b. 50 bbls "Golden Sheaf" do at $4,50 delivered; 200 bbls "Empire" do (Watertown) at $4,45 f. o. b.; 75 bbls "Rochester City" do at $4,25; 200 bbls "North Lake" do at $4,00 delivered; 65 bbls "Granite," 60 bbls "Rock Lake" Superfine at $4 delivered; 27 bbls "Premium" do at $3,75 Wednesday: 100 bbls "Manchester" Spring Extra, 100 bbls "Constitution" do, 75 bbls "West Union" (Iowa) do, 92 bbls "Dayton Valley," and 25 bbls "Falcon" do at $4,50; 100 bbls "Omro" do at $4,40; and 75 bbls "Fulton" do at $4,45—all free on board. Thursday being thanksgiving, business generally suspended. Friday: 100 barrels Portage City Spring Extra at $4,35; 250 bbls do on p.t.; 120 bbls "Empire" (Watertown) do, at $4,25; 45 bbls "Arcade" do, and 32 bbls "Eagle" do, at $4,25; 95 bbls "Barnum" Superfine at $3,87½; and 25 bbls "Valley City" Fine at $3,20. Saturday: Under more favorable foreign news and an improvement at the East, the decline of the two previous days was regained,—Sales 175 bbls "Constitution" Spring Extra at $4 50; 500 bbls "Steam Mills" do at $4,40; 95 bbls "Berlin City" at same price—all f. o. b.; 48 bbls "Fox River" Superfine at $4.

Sales: 350 bus Extra Club at 97c; 350 bus Club delivered at 93c; 600 bus do at 92c; 10,000 bus No. 1 f. o. b. at 92c; 1,700 bus do on track at 89½c; 1,300 bus do at 89c; 1,000 bus do at 89c; 850 bus do at 88c; 850 bus No. 2 at 87c.

OATS—Receipts 6,924 bus against 5,556 last week.— Oats have ruled rather lower than last week, and not been in very active request. The following are the only sales reported: 2,000 bus in store at 31c; 1,000 bus f. o. b. at 31c; 800 bus were paid for small lots delivered.

BARLEY—Receipts 3,022 bus against 3,951 last week. Demand moderate, being confined to local trade. We quote Minnesota barley at 40@45c; Wisconsin 56@60c for No. 1 to Extra.

EGGS—Are very scarce and sell readily at 18@14c.

HIDES—Receipts 125,350 lbs against 112,144 last week. Hides have been dull with rather a downward tendency. We quote green 5@5½c; green salted 5¾ @6c; dry-salted 10@11c; dry flint 12@13½c.

CRANBERRIES—Receipts light and prices very firm.— They are selling to-day at $3@3,25 per bushel.

DRESSED HOGS—Receipts for the week by rail road 2,769 head, and by other sources estimated at 2,800 head, making a total of 2,569 head against a total of 3,668 last week. The weather during the past week has been rather unfavorable for packing, and with a very few exceptions $5,50 was the outside price paid for hogs averaging 240 pounds and upwards. The week closes, however, on a firm market, and heavy hogs would doubtless go something higher than this figure. The following sales will show the range of the market during the week:
